

BC TRCR Conference- First Nations and Community Sponsorship

First Nations and community members actively participating in the review of reclamation at proposed, operating or closed mines are invited to apply for free registration to the 2025 BC Mine Reclamation Symposium, taking place from September 21-24, 2026, in Fort St. John, BC or virtually.

Attendance at the symposium is a great opportunity to:

- Gain an appreciation of the materials, methods and different approaches used in mine reclamation;
- Gain an appreciation of the advancements in practices, techniques and technical standards that apply to the understanding and prediction of mine related impacts;
- Learn about the reclamation work conducted during different phases of mine development, and different types of mines;
- Meet and network with reclamation practitioners; and
- Learn about examples of successful mine reclamation and closure activities.

Free registration will allow participation in the short courses, mine tour (if selected and space available), sponsored social events and 2-day technical paper presentation sessions.

Persons wishing to apply should send an e-mail indicating their name, affiliation, contact information and briefly describe the nature of their participation in the review of reclamation at a proposed, operating or closed mine. We note that there is a limited number of spaces we can provide, so please get your request in as soon as possible.
